Lutheran Crusaders in annual festival Sunday

Churches of Chicago area will participate

Next Sunday, June 28th, a large gathering of Lutherans from the entire Northern Illinois District will attend the third annual festival of the Lutheran Mission Crusaders at Camp Reinberg, located about 2 miles north of Palatine on Quentin road, about 1/2 mile north of Dundee road.

Festivities for the day will begin at 2:45 p. m. when a special divine service will be conducted. The Rev. Henry Heise of Waukegan will open the service. The principle speaker at the service will be the Rev. A. T. Kretzmann of Barrington. Other officiating pastors will be The Rev. J. E. A. Mueller of Mt. Prospect (spiritual adviser of Lutheran Mission Crusaders), Rev. Paul G. Gerth of Prairie View, Rev. W. C. Koester of Palatine, Rev. A. H. Semmann of Park Ridge, Rev. W. G. Fechner of Northfield, Rev. H. P. Meyer of Woodstock and Rev. R. E. Elissfeldt of Round Lake. Singing of the hymns will be led by the Lutheran Harmony Band directed by Mr. Walter A. Borchardt. Choirs participating in the service are the St. Peter children's choir, directed by Mr. Theo. Preuss, and the St. Peter Mixed choir, Mr. Arnold Bathie, director. Both choirs are from Arlington Heights.

A special feature of the celebration will be a patriotic program which will take place shortly after the divine service. The opening of this program will be by Rev. H. C. Fricke of Arlington Heights. It will consist of the singing of the National Anthem by the audience followed by the pledge of allegiance to the U. S. flag, and the Cross of Christ. Following this there will be a flag drill by the children of the Christian Day Schools of Des Plaines, Palatine, Arlington Heights, Round Lake, Mt. Prospect and Prairie View. The drill will be directed by Mr. Albert Bierwagen of Prairie View.

Following this program there will be a concert by the Lutheran Harmony Band.

Refreshments and light lunches will be served on the grounds. The festival committee has worked hard in arranging this program, and it should prove to be very interesting and enjoyable to all who attend. Because of the war, this may be the last celebration for the duration, and it is hoped that if possible every Lutheran will attend this festival in the interest of the mission work of the church.

Recommends hydrants only for mfg. plants

Advisory committee recently appointed by Mayor Goedke to handle the request of E. W. A. Rowles Co. and Creamery Package Co. for fire protection service from six-inch water mains met Monday evening and formulated a recommendation to the village board, the provisions of which will be forwarded to the respective manufacturing plants.

The committee opposed any expenditure of municipal funds for the laying or construction of the water mains, but does recommend to the village that the village install at its own expense one hydrant and fittings at each plant. Such expense would total about $500. Individual expense for the companies would be approximately $2,000 and $1,000 respectively. If the main for E. W. A. Rowles' plant is continued around the block, its expense would be $4,000.

Lutheran vesper service Sunday

St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, offers a Vesper Communion worship Sunday at 7:30 p. m. to its membership. The Confession will be combined with Communion in one service. Registrations are received at the church Friday afternoon and evening 3:30 to 4:30 and 6:30 to 8 p. m.

Hospital benefit dance June 27

A benefit dance given by Palatine Hospital Auxiliary, will be held at Sobie's Rand Tower, Rand (U. S. 12) and Elmhurst Rds., Saturday, June 27, at 8:30 p. m. Modern and old style dancing. There will be good music and door prizes. Admission, 50 cents.

Last call for blood donors

More blood donor volunteers are still needed if Arlington Heights is to have the services of the Mobile Unit of the American Red Cross for two full days.

The American Red Cross is pleading for more blood plasma for the boys who are dying on the battlefield for us. Please heed the call and telephone Mrs. George Haycock, tel. 1370, for an appointment for July 2, when it will be possible to give the blood right in the village through the services of the Mobile Unit.

Notice to blood donor volunteers

The Mobile Unit for the American Red Cross is coming to the north side school in Arlington Heights on July 1 and 2. If unable to keep appointment please call Mrs. George Haycock, tel. 1370, as soon as possible.

To insure clear plasma, all fats and fatty foods must be avoided for four hours before reporting. This includes milk, cream, cheese, fat meats, ice cream, butter, peanut butter, fried foods, mayonnaise, salad oil, eggs and nuts.

It is recommended that all donors have a light meal of fat free food made up of toast (no butter) with jelly, coffee or tea without cream, and crackers and fruits.

Weather limits crowd as swimming pool opens

Memberships open to the public

Shortly after one o'clock Tuesday the 1942 season of the Arlington Heights Park District's swimming pool was opened. Beverly Pink was the first swimmer to enter the pool. Inclement weather tended to limit the attendance, but the children of the village were anxious to swim regardless of the cold.

Present indications lead the Park Board to believe that this will be a banner year. At this time with a far from complete list of ticket holders known, the number of buyers is running way ahead of last year. In the second place, said Mr. Paul Tague, president of the Park Board, the tire and gasoline situation will keep many more people at home this summer than is usually the case.

In addition to the swimming pool there are numerous other recreational facilities in the park. They are all free except that a small charge is made for lighting the tennis courts for evening play. Shuffleboard, croquet, volleyball, and both hard and soft baseball are available to all who wish to make use of them.

The swimming pool, temporarily at least, will be open from one to ten p. m. Besides the large pool there is a wading pool for young children. Three life guards and a nurse are in attendance at Breda of Arlington Heights, captain, and Jack Witson and Don Nelson, Mrs. Mary Haseman is the nurse.

There are several different types of membership available, but in many cases the family membership is most practical. A family membership allows any or all members of the family to swim as often as they please. One family, for example, paid the five dollars (plus tax) family ticket fee, and received a membership which would have cost $24.20 if bought separately. Anyone desiring a ticket may purchase it from any member of the Park Board or from the attendants at the pool.

The war is won:

Victory Joy Klopfenstein, Barrington, who was born at 11 a. m. Nov. 11, 1918, the hour of the armistice of the first world war, has enlisted in the navy air corps for World War II. If names mean anything in this war, victory will soon be ours, with Victory on the side of the allies.

Martin A. Jurs, of Barrington, has enlisted in naval reserve.

15,000 see Arlington open

Fifteen thousand race fans poured over $481,000 through the mutual machines at Arlington Park Monday afternoon in a gay holiday spirit that featured the opening of Arlington's 36-day racing season.

It was ladies' day as well as opening day and the fair sex turned out by the thousands to help swell the crowd.

Added to the fact that it was the opening day at the big track the weather man turned out the finest day of the summer for the inaugural.

Long shots and well favored horses, all had a share in the winning of the various races and kept the big crowd jolly and good natured during the entire program.

One of the finest races in Arlington's long history developed in the running of the feature race of the day, the Des Plaines handicap when Royal Crusader and Heartman staged a thrilling nose and nose duel all down the long stretch with the camera being called in to give it to Crusader by a whisker.

Off to a flying start the success of the Arlington meeting is assured and with favorable weather a new attendance and new mutual record is sure to be hung up for the Chicago district.

The Arlington Park program is studded with feature events during the entire meeting, with several high class stake and purse events down for decision every week.

The feature race for Saturday of this week will be the Equipoise mile for a purse of $10,000 for three year olds and up. The Equipoise mile is named after the famous horse of that name who set the world's record for a mile over the Arlington track several years ago.

Next Wednesday the feature race will be the rolling lawn handicap over the beautiful grass course. A race over the grass course is a feature of every day's racing at Arlington Park and these events have made a big hit with the crowds.

So off to a flying start, Arlington Park seems headed for the greatest season in its history with many records scheduled to fall before the close of the meeting on August 1st.

Bombs set mobilization in action

Army will order blackout trial in near future

Bombs exploded in Arlington Heights Tuesday evening but there was neither an air raid nor a 4th of July celebration. They were a part of the signals used in a mobilization test of the air raid alert system.

Hundreds of air raid wardens, fire watchers, and messengers were mobilized in Arlington Heights by means of telephone calls and aerial bombs as Civilian Defense officials of Division Ten made their first test check on the operation of the protective services. Some confusion resulted, from various causes, as was to be expected in a first trial, but in many respects the results were highly satisfactory.

A last-minute change in instructions from Division Control Headquarters came too late to be passed on to the hundreds of wardens and watchers and caused an extra signal to be given. The sounding of the siren with the up-and-down warbling effect was the notice to the public that "enemy planes" would soon be overhead. This was followed after a brief interval by the sounding of the siren on a steady note to indicate "all clear." Officially that ended the signals in the mobilization test. But wardens and watchers at their posts and the public in general were completely puzzled by additional sirens as both fire trucks answered a fire alarm.

The fire alarm turned out to be the work of a malicious prankster, whose humor was not appreciated either by the firemen who risk their lives on the speeding trucks or by the citizens of the community who are devoting their time and efforts to working out a system of protection for lives and property against a foreign enemy.

The test revealed a high state of efficiency on the part of the telephone service in Arlington Heights. According to Mr. Arthur Drechsel, Communications Chief, this service can be further improved and extended.

Sixty or more Cub Scouts in uniform were sent out under the direction of Mr. Arthur Cubley and served as messengers for the thirteen Zone Chiefs. Several of them reported at headquarters for possible service there.

The Civilian Defense Council held its regular Tuesday night meeting immediately after the test and discussed the problems which the results of the test presented.

The next test, according to present information, will be a complete blackout, ordered by the army. It will be held sometime in the next two weeks. Army men who are charged with the duty of defending the nation against attack and who must have the co-operation of civilians in blackouts and in other ways are not likely to look with favor upon practical jokers.

Local authorities are hoping for the fullest possible aid from the public in making this test a success.

Season swim ticket drive closes June 28

The Recreation Commission wishes to announce that after June 28, all season swim tickets will be on sale at the field house only. Many families have taken advantage of the splendid values offered by the season swim tickets and more sales are certain to be made. If you have not as yet secured your ticket either call one of the members of the Recreation Commission or call at the field house and see Mr. McElhose. Remember that the Red Cross Swim classes begin the week of July 6.

All of those boys and girls wishing to take part in the summer recreation program, please sign up with Mr. McElhose at the field house before July 4. Softball, horseshoes, circle golf, box hockey, volleyball, and other activities will be available to those who attend these morning sessions. A definite schedule will be announced next week. These morning activity periods are free to all boys and girls in Arlington Heights.

Rifle club seeks affiliation with national group

The local rifle club is moving right along with reorganization under the name of Arlington Heights rifle club now in prospect. The club will be affiliated with the National rifle association.

Many of the members have already qualified under the marksman rating, with some rating a sharpshooter qualification. Plans are being made for a Fourth of July shoot.

Shootings are held each Wednesday evening and Sunday morning at the city dump.

One day early next week

Because of July 4th, all of the Paddock papers go to press one day earlier next week. Advertisers, reporters and correspondents are asked to prepare their copy at least 24 hours earlier than usual. Classified page closes Tuesday noon.

Village budget nears $90,000 for next year

Arlington Heights village board passed its 1942-43 budget Monday evening, which totaled nearly $90,000, an increase of $6,000 over last year's appropriation ordinance.

The increase in the budget does not mean additional taxes as the larger part of that increase is due to improvements needed at the new well. The original $20,000 bond issue is not sufficient to pay all of the costs. The additional amount needed will come from the earnings of the water department.

The figures in the budget represent the probable expenses of the municipality and include in addition to corporate expenses such items as public library $2,500; community nurse's salary $600; judgment funding bond issue $3,575; refunding bond issue $2,450.

The ordinance appears in this issue. It is so itemized that interested taxpayers can see for themselves where their tax money and current receipts of the village will be spent during the coming year.

Rock River conference in session

The one hundred and third annual meeting of the Rock River Conference convened June 23, and concludes Sunday, June 28. This year the meetings will be held in the world-famed First Methodist church of Evanston, Ill. Dr. Ernest Fremont Tittle, world renowned preacher is pastor of the church. Dr. Tittle is recognized throughout religious views. Dr. Tittle's ministry covers the last quarter century.

Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf, who is entering his eleventh year as Bishop of the Chicago area will preside over the conference session. Bishop Waldorf is known to thousands of people as a preacher who can say profound things in simple understandable, every-day language. Bishop Waldorf is the head administrator of the 379 churches of the Rock River conference.

The Rock River conference comprises the territory north of Kansas, east of Morrison, to the Lake and north to the Wisconsin line. The Arlington Heights Methodist church is one of the oldest societies in the conference in age. One new feature of this year's meeting is that the session meets in the spring rather than in the fall as has been the custom hitherto.

The duties of the rationing boards have been greatly widened and likewise their official title which is "War Price and Rationing Board." This is more in keeping with their increasing duties.

In the metropolitan area, which includes Wheeling and Elk Grove townships, the handling of sugar applications for sugar is being handled by individual secretaries of each board. These secretaries are very busy.

Mrs. Verdel Heckmiller of the Arlington Heights board has issued over 800 certificates for canning sugar in addition to her many other duties. Only two of the local retail sellers have filed maximum price lists, which must be filed by July 1st.

The Arlington Heights office is open during business hours every day at 11 North Evergreen (not Wilson Real Estate office). Those who reside in Wheeling township west of Schoenbeck road should call at the Arlington office.

Mrs. Irene M. Kramer, secretary of Elk Grove township War Price and Rationing Board 8-1, is equally as busy. The hours of her office coincide with those of Mt. Prospect State Bank, where they are located. They are 8:30 to 12 noon and 1 p. m. to 2 p. m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays; 8:30 to 12 noon on Wednesdays and Saturdays from 8:30 to noon and 1 to 2:30.

All institutional and industrial users are required to register at their local boards between June 20th and July 5th for the next allotment of sugar.

Navy Air Squad'n May organize in N.-W. towns

Opportunity for local high school graduates

The Navy Air Cadet Selection Board has authorized the organization of a navy air squadron in northwest Cook county, comprising high school graduates between the ages of 18 and 26 residing in the six northwest townships of Cook county, including Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, Palatine, Des Plaines, Barrington, and Barrington.

There are openings for thirty boys. After the applicants have passed their physical examination they will receive initial training at Glenview and secure their wings at one of the major air stations in the south. The boys will remain together as one group.

Upon the completion of their training, the boys will have their choice of being commissioned as ensigns in the navy or as second lieutenants in the marine corps.

Bob Herren, of Barrington has been appointed wing commander for the enlistment period and will be pleased to give full details as to pay, etc., to any interested person. His phone number is Barrington 680.

Members of the selection board who have authorized the formation of the unit are Emory Welder, J. Berwanger and Lt. Penfield.

Opening day bond sales at race track top $1300

Opening Day at Arlington Park Monday was also the opening day of a War Bond and Stamp sales drive which will continue throughout the racing meet. Mr. J. D. Jackson, manager of the Arlington Park Jockey Club, and the other officials are co-operating with the War Bond staff in Arlington Heights in promoting the sales of stamps and bonds. Sales on the first day amounted to a total of $1,340.45.

Workers in the booths are women volunteers from the communities nearby. Each group works one day per week in the following order, beginning on Monday: Barrington, Palatine, Prospect Heights, Mt. Prospect, Des Plaines, and Arlington Heights.

The Arlington Park Jockey club provided two beautiful booths, one in the grandstand and one in the clubhouse. In addition, each mutual window carries a small poster reminding the bettors that their best bet is a bet on America. The programs carry bond advertising and throughout the afternoon songs and announcements on the public address system remind the audience to buy bonds and stamps.

All arrangements for the bond and stamp sales drive at the track have been worked out under the direction of Mr. Nicholas Lattof, chairman of the drive in Arlington Heights.

Bike testing stations swamped

Applicants for bike licenses at Arlington Heights, came too fast for the testing stations Monday of this week. One official testing station reported "it was some job." The kiddies are most anxious to get their licenses and one police officer remarked "if the vehicle licenses come in that way next year, our job would be easy."

Most of the youngsters were requesting a "special number," which was granted when possible. Some of the bikes that failed to pass inspection were held over until necessary repairs could be made.

Tags are 30 cents. Due to an error in last week's issue, some of the applicants were a nickel short of the 30c fee. The tags actually cost about 28c each and if all 600 tags are sold there will be little if any loss.

Every Monday is the official date for inspection. Have your bikes tested at any of the following testing lanes: Burns Service Station, Winkelman's Tire & Battery Shop, Schimming Oil Co., or Super Shell Service Station. When you receive the okayed application, apply at the Village Clerk's Office in the village hall for your license.

Imagine the ingenuity of one of the applicants that took some scrap rubber to the testing station and requested his plate attached for the scrap. You may be sure his request was granted.

Draft board waits and waits for registrars

Announcement in last week's Herald that volunteers are needed to handle the registering of youths 18-19 from June 26 to 30 did not bring forth the expected number of phone calls. Tuesday afternoon only five persons from the six townships had volunteered their services. Between 45 and 50 are needed. All of the registering is to be done at the headquarters of the board in Arlington Heights.

Before Secretary Smith could send the telegram to headquarters (as ordered) Tuesday that the board was ready to proceed with the registration he had to use the phone book to call up a number of those who had served at previous registrations. These were quick to respond, but Mr. Smith needs more relief workers so that no one person will be asked to work an undue number of hours. The phone number is Arlington Heights 430.

Following the call in last week's Herald, the first to volunteer was a registrant of the third draft, who has been called for service in July. He volunteered his services as one of the registrars for this week-end.

The selective service board now comprises five men as follows: Delmer R. Rippey, chairman, 906 east Euclid avenue, Arlington Heights; Robert M. Utpadel, secretary, Wheeling; Paul F. Carroll, member, 116 west Euclid avenue, Arlington Heights; Burton A. Brannen, member, 617 south Belmont, Arlington Heights; Alphonse J. Weidner, member, Dundee road, Arlington Heights.

An entire afternoon of sports and other entertainment has been arranged by the Trade and Civic Assn., to lead up to the evening program. An impressive ceremony has been arranged for the swearing in of air raid wardens, fire watchers, and others who will take the Civilian Defense oath. This mass induction will be unique. No other occasion has been reported in Illinois in which members of all units who have completed their courses have been sworn in en masse. This public ceremony will be a fitting tribute to the patriotic citizens of Arlington Heights who have spent long hours in the basic training courses for their Civilian Defense positions.

Ask for full membership for improvements

Prospect Heights association studies drainage, etc.

The 66 members of Prospect Heights Improvement association who attended a meeting held June 17, were told by the president that there are many things that an active improvement association can do for Prospect Heights, but the first requisite is a majority membership of all property owners and residents of that community. Outstanding present problems include the drainage question and speed restrictions. "We need the cooperation of members and non-members for the major activities and problems that confront Prospect Heights as a community," stated President Moritz. "Without that support and membership we can do little."

Mr. Moritz was presiding at his first meeting since his election. A copy of the petition relative to the speed limits within the community, was read by Mr. G. Shephard. The petition was referred back to the committee until certain points were clarified. A motion was carried that the petition be supported by the P.H.I.A.

Residents of Prospect Heights are urged to become a member of the Prospect Heights Improvement Association.

Camp Reinberg, at Deer Grove, will open July 1 with Stanley O'Carroll again in charge. The customary six groups will be entertained at the camp during July and August, each having ten days. Announcements of special events at the camp to which the public is invited will appear in coming issues of this paper.

Paddock Publications has made extensive additions in their poster department by the purchase of new wood type faces and are now in a position to give increased variety of types on such work.

Few printing offices in northern Illinois handle as many posters as the printing department of this firm. Combination rates for advertising, posters and tickets are in effect.

Additions made to Poster department

Parade to excel all previous patriotic events

Full program for July 4th will appear in next week's paper, issued Wednesday morning.

The great annual celebration in Arlington Heights, long an outstanding Fourth of July feature in the Northwest area of metropolitan Chicago, will open this year with a huge parade. Marchers will assemble at the South side public school at 9:00 a. m., from where they will proceed along the parade route to Recreation Park. The climax of the morning's festivities will be a patriotic speech by Lt. Col. Fordney of the United States Marine Corps.

The parade is expected to be the largest ever to march in Arlington Heights. In addition to the organizations of ex-service men, the women's auxiliary groups, and all the youth organizations, every person enrolled in Civilian Defense in any capacity whatever has been requested to participate. The drum and bugle corps and the high school band will furnish music for the marchers. Prompt assembly will be important.

An entire afternoon of sports and other entertainment has been arranged by the Trade and Civic Assn., to lead up to the evening program. An impressive ceremony has been arranged for the swearing in of air raid wardens, fire watchers, and others who will take the Civilian Defense oath. This mass induction will be unique. No other occasion has been reported in Illinois in which members of all units who have completed their courses have been sworn in en masse. This public ceremony will be a fitting tribute to the patriotic citizens of Arlington Heights who have spent long hours in the basic training courses for their Civilian Defense positions.

Games for the afternoon have been arranged as detailed in the columns of the Herald last week. A baseball game between the Red Wings and the Chicago Firemen has been scheduled for 3 o'clock.

A new feature on the program this year is the community singing in which all present will be asked to take part. The band from St. Mary's Training school will furnish the accompaniment and Mrs. George Tuttle will direct the singing. Patriotic and other familiar songs are on the list to be sung. The singing will begin at 6:30.

Refreshment and other stands will be available to serve the needs of the public. Proceeds will go as usual to support various community services and projects.

With the arrival of dark the usual display of fireworks will occur. This display was made up before Pearl Harbor and will be the last time that fireworks will be shown until after the present war. (In case of inclement weather, the fireworks will be shot off the following evening.)

Dancing will start in the field house with music by Wally Hahnfeldt's orchestra. Tickets are 55 cents each.

The swimming pool will be open to all swimmers after one o'clock, continuing until dark.

The concession features of the celebration will continue on Sunday afternoon and evening.

The rides and concessions will all be open with a prevue Friday evening, July 3.

Leaders of the Trade and Civic Association and chairmen in charge of the many activities are planning to make this celebration of the biggest and most successful of the many successful celebrations put on by Arlington Heights in recent years.

Young folks could not wait for pool to open; fined

Four boys and one girl, all 14 years of age, who were visiting friends in Arlington Heights, could not wait until the opening day of the swim pool. They climbed the wire fence the other evening, donned swimming suits and entered the pool where they were discovered by the park watchman.

Officer Karstens took them to the station where Judge Behrens assessed a small fine as an example that fences are supposed to be fences and not stepping stones to a swimming hole.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 21.

The Golden Text was, "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens" (Prov. 3: 19). Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else." (Isa. 45: 18).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit, God, has created all in and of Himself. Spirit is the only substance, the invisible and indivisible infinite God. Things spiritual and eternal are substantial. Things material and temporal are insubstantial" (p. 335).

LET'S MEET ON MY PORCH!

Your porch is so cool and shady that you hate to leave it? Why not invite the women you work with most closely in Red Cross or other war work to come to your house? Have the meeting on the porch — and serve an easy porch supper, or lunch, or breakfast. Women get to know each other better when they discuss their work together over the tea or coffee cups or a light lunch. And here's a suggestion for such a porch meal.

Stuffed Ham Rolls Garnished with Watercress, Radish Roses and Black Olives
Cheese Puffs Tomato Biscuits Plain Biscuits Jam or Preserves Strawberry Shortcake Hot Coffee

Have the lunch ready when they arrive and serve at once.

STUFFED HAM ROLLS
(To Serve Eight)
8 slices cold boiled ham or baked ham
2 cups cooked potatoes, cubed
2 cups cooked carrots, cubed
2 cups cooked peas
1 cup diced celery
1 tsp. onion juice
4 tbsp. well seasoned French dressing
1/2 cup mayonnaise dressing

Trim ham and twist slices into cornucopias. Mix together the potatoes, carrots, peas, celery and onion juice. Cut up any left-over bits of ham which are trimmed from the slices and add. Marinate in French dressing. Add 1/2 tsp. mustard to mayonnaise and mix with salad just before serving. Additional salt and dressing may be added to taste. Fill the cornucopias with salad and sprinkle with finely minced parsley. Arrange on individual serving plates, place sprigs of watercress or parsley with radish roses and black olives around for a garnish. Deviled eggs may be added, too, if desired. Have additional salad ready in a bowl to pass.

CHEESE PUFFS
2 cups grated yellow American cheese (1/2 lb.)
1/2 cup butter
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/4 tsp. salt
Dash of cayenne pepper
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Paprika

Blend grated cheese and butter together (working with spoon or fingers until mixture is smooth). Sift flour once before measuring. Add flour, salt, cayenne pepper, and Worcestershire sauce to butter and cheese mixture. Mix thoroughly. Shape into balls about the size of large marbles. Place on well-greased baking sheet. Chill until just before you want to serve them. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake 10 to 12 minutes in a hot oven, 450° F. This makes 5 dozen small puffs.

Cheese Biscuits—Add 1/2 cup grated cheese to dry ingredients for biscuits.
Tomato Biscuits—Use tomato juice in place of milk in making biscuits.

Tony Scolaro is an army lawyer after all

When Tony Scolaro entered the army as a private he said nothing about his profession as he preferred to take army life with the rest of the fellows. He did have a hankering for flying, but after a bit of private training, followed by a taste of gunnery instruction as an air fighter, he is now back in a lawyer's chair.

In a letter received by the Herald this week, Tony says that he has been reassigned to the judge advocate's division. His duties cover the investigation and prosecution of accident cases involving soldiers in and around Denver, trying to settle claims as amicably as possible and maintain friendly relations between civilians and the soldiers.

Scolaro has also been assigned to the legal clinic to aid soldiers in their legal problems, relieving their minds of undue worries, assist them in qualifying for soldiers insurance, drawing of wills, powers of attorney and domestic problems. His permanent address for the next few weeks will be Lowry field after which he expects to see some of that long-awaited action.

He concluded his letter with, "I am only receiving about 25 letters per week; I could stand to get four more."

Note—Tony and Stu Paddock receive gifts from the Lions club this week, contributions from the card tables in play at the recent smoker.

Promoted

The promotion of Private 1st class Eldon R. Belzar to the grade of Technician 5th Grade has been announced by Colonel Byron T. Burt, Commanding Officer of Geiger Field, Washington.

Technician 5th Grade Belzar is the son of Mrs. Florence Harris. He entered the service in March, 1942 and at present is a Chief Maintenance.

The promotion of Technician 5th Grade Belzar is a recognition of his qualities of leadership, initiative and ability.

It's common sense to be thrifty. If you save you are thrifty. War Bonds help you to save and help to save America. Buy your ten per cent every pay day.

For a long and happy life

by C. W. LUSSMAN
of Sieburg Pharmacy

That your days "may be long in the land," and happy as well, good health is the first requisite. A normal appetite for wholesome food, sound sleep, enjoyment of honest repose are due every person.

The price of good health is vigilance. Not anxious fussy perturbation, but reliance upon the doctor's skill and advice. Periodically every man, woman and child should consult a trained physician and as the years increase, particularly after the age of forty these examinations should be more frequent.

This is just good health insurance. "Good pharmacy pays an extra dividend on that insurance."

Vacation school in second week

The Community Vacation Church school being sponsored by the First Methodist, St. John's Evangelical, and First Presbyterian churches is now in its second week. Reports from the school say that it is making excellent progress, and those who are in charge of the school, as well as those who are in attendance, say they are well pleased with it. Twenty-five new pupils were enrolled the second week.

This school will continue this week and next. All boys and girls from 4 to 14 years of age inclusive are invited to attend.

Among the activities of the school are Bible study, worship, music, handwork, recreation, educational movies, drama, field trips, and other expressive activities.

There will be a picnic the last day of the school, and a demonstration program will be held on the Sunday evening of July 5.

The Beginners Department for boys and girls four and five years of age is meeting at the Methodist church with Mrs. Mary Lauterburg and a corps of eight other teachers in charge. Their theme for study is, "Our Happy World." Milk for these boys and girls is being furnished each day by Dentefan's Dairy, Meyer Brother's Dairy, and Pet Milk Company.

The other three departments are meeting at the Presbyterian church as follows:

Primary department (1st, 2nd and 3rd grades) has as its theme, "Bible Homes and Homes Today," with Mrs. M. W. Prellberg as superintendent, assisted by five other teachers.

Junior Department (4th, 5th and 6th grades) has as its theme, "Followers of Jesus," with Mrs. Albert Bauer as superintendent, assisted by five other teachers. Intermediate department (7th, 8th and 9th grades) has as its theme, "Discovering God in the Beautiful," with Mrs. Wm. Kampenel as superintendent, assisted by three other teachers.

Many enjoy piano recital

It was a large and appreciative audience of parents and friends who gathered in the Arlington Methodist hall last week Tuesday evening to witness the piano recital given by the pupils of Miss Celia Hausam.

The performers ranging from 5 years to high school age, presented an interesting and enjoyable program.

Many words of encouragement and commendation were heard for both teacher and pupils for the splendid performance and talent displayed by this large class.

CORRECTION

Cubs to hold annual outing at Deer Grove Saturday

The next and last pack meeting until September will be held Saturday afternoon at Deer Grove. This outing will be a combination pack meeting and picnic, all Cubs and their parents are expected to be there.

Cubs will meet at the north side school at four o'clock, where transportation will be furnished if they are not with their parents.

Bring your own picnic lunch and plenty of hot dogs because we will have a big weiner roast. Ice cream and pop will be furnished by the pack, free.

Parents that cannot come out this early can come out later in the evening because this outing will last until nine-thirty.

The picnic, etc., will be held at the shelter house at Deer Grove near the ski jump slide. Every Cub and his parents are urged to be there.

This event is an annual affair and all the Cubs enjoy it in a big way. But it is very discouraging to the Pack committee to see so few parents interested enough in the organization and their own boys to attend this one outing a year. What do you say parents, how about a little support? We ask for very little of your help.

Deer Grove is very close to Arlington Heights and we believe Uncle Sam will allow this much of our future citizens at its highest point.

Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Levine enjoyed caviar anchovies and cocktails Sunday afternoon at the home of the J. L. Barrett family at Crystal Lake. In the evening they entertained Frederick Theis and fiancée of Park Ridge.

George Helds hosts at twenty-fifth anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George Held were hosts to one hundred and thirty-five friends and relatives on Saturday evening in the field house in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Present for the happy occasion were four of the original bridal party, Mrs. Elmo Williams, Mrs. Chris Trost, Mr. Herman H. Meyer and Mr. Earl Held.

The guests enjoyed the evening dancing to the music of "Kings of Melody" from Chicago, and a buffet supper was served at midnight.

The host and hostess received many lovely remembrances in honor of the occasion, numbered among them 25 American Beauty Roses from the V. F. W., Auxiliary of which Mrs. Held is a member.

Mrs. Held was honored on Thursday at the meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the St. Peter's Lutheran church and was presented with a silver corsage and many other beautiful gifts, when the meeting became an anniversary party.

Garden party for young set

Mr. and Mrs. Milo R. Little of 608 Newbury Place were hosts to 30 classmates of their daughter, Audrey, at a lovely garden party on Wednesday evening of last week.

The young people, all graduates of this year's eighth grade, made a colorful picture, the girls in summer formal in the attractively arranged garden setting. Soft lights placed at various locations in the garden, gave light for the games and dancing, which took place on the waxed drive way, and on the lawn.

The guests refreshed themselves with cold drinks which were served from a wheelbarrow gaily decorated in white crepe paper tied with a large bow, placed conveniently on the lawn, and later in the evening, the young people were served party refreshments in the dining room, where the table was decorated in the class colors of blue and white.

American Legion auxiliary notes

The A. L. A. Department of Illinois is divided into 25 districts and each district has been allotted a month for furnishing cookies for the boys at the USO center. The 9th district has the month of July, and the Palatine and Merie Guild units are to serve on July 1st, 25 to 50 lbs. of cookies are needed each day and cookies baked a day or two before using are usually better than when baked the last minute. Those contributing are asked to wrap each cookie when cool in waxed paper, before packing, and to be sure that they reach National Defense chairman, Mrs. Fannie May, on June 30th. She will take them to the Service Men's Center, at 120 South La Salle, on July 1st. The members living on the north side may leave their cookies at the home of Mrs. Paul Carroll, 116 W. Euclid, and she will see that they are taken to Mrs. May's the evening of June 30th.

A & P offers to buy fats, greases, in war program

Cooperating with the War Production Board's drive to salvage waste fats and greases from the nation's kitchens, the A & P Tea Company announced today that beginning the first week in July such waste will be purchased from housewives at meat counters of its stores throughout the country.

Considered one of the most important salvage programs proposed by the WPB, the effort is aimed at increasing the nation's supply of glycerin, a fat derivative vital in the production of explosives for bombs and shells. Estimating that 2,000,000,000 pounds of household cooking fats are wasted each year, WPB hopes to effect the salvage of one-quarter of this amount.

Housewives, who will be kept informed of the program through company advertising, will be asked to save fats in large-mouth metal containers which may be brought to meat counters in quantities of a pound or over, the announcement said. WPB has requested housewives to keep the fat in clean containers and in a cool place until taken to the store where prevailing rates will be paid, the company reselling the fats to rendering concerns under regulations laid down by the WPB.

Brother of Heights woman returns from Coral Sea

Mrs. John Kent of 611 North Douglas received word this week that her brother, Walter Duncan of the U. S. Navy, arrived safely at his home in Ashland, Ohio this week for a ten day furlough, following his rescue at sea after participation in the battle of the Coral Sea. Duncan took an active part in the aerial battle over the Pacific during which his aircraft base, the Lexington, was destroyed. The bomber for which Duncan served as gunner, was told by radio to report to another aircraft carrier in the vicinity, but had to land on the water due to a damaged landing gear. The crew was picked up by a destroyer and taken to some South Pacific Islands before being returned to the United States.

Young Duncan since the Pearl Harbor attack on Dec. 7, has made two full voyages around the world, these climaxing with the Coral Sea engagement. Duncan enlisted in the Navy in 1941 and received his basic training at Great Lakes Naval Training Station. Duncan who has several Jap planes to his credit is anxious to get back into the fight and on June 27 will resume active service.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Laurin will entertain their bridge club for bridge and the evening on Saturday.

HELP US AVERT GASOLINE RATIONING

WE ARE OFFICIAL RECEIVING DEPOT FOR

Scrap Rubber

FROM JUNE 15th TO JULY 1st, 1942

10% OF INCOME IS OUR QUOTA IN WAR BONDS

Remember Bataan Invest A Dime Out of Every Dollar in U.S. War Bonds

--Sell Your Scrap Rubber to Uncle Sam — Tires - Tubes - Household Goods Galoshes, etc.--

Bring it in here — we pay 1c a pound and turn it over at cost to the government.

8 GOOD REASONS WHY EVERY AMERICAN SHOULD PARTICIPATE

1. Country needs rubber for vital military purposes. Scrap rubber is the one immediate source of a large amount of additional rubber. The Government is anxious to buy this scrap rubber at $25.00 per long ton (2,240 pounds).
2. If donated the proceeds will go to a cause which will make the lot of our fighting men easier. — Red Cross, U. S. O., Navy Relief.
3. If the owner prefers to sell, he will get some return (1c a pound) and if there is anything left over when the rubber is sold to the Government, it will still go to these worthy organizations although the amount will be smaller than if donated.
4. Any accomplishment short of a large collection will be used as propaganda by our enemies. Everyone must help in order to avoid this occurrence.
5. Scrap rubber cluttering up a basement, an attic, a garage, a barn or a farm yard is unsightly and a hazard in case of fire. This is a good time to remove it.
6. Conveniences such as home delivery, taxi-cab service, school buses, ambulance service and undertakers' vehicular services can be more assuredly maintained if a lot of scrap rubber is collected.
7. A continued supply of such necessary articles as rubbers, overshoes, raincoats, rubber gloves, hot water bottles, garden hose, and ice bags, to mention only a few, are more certain to be had if the scrap rubber drive is a success.
8. If enough scrap rubber is collected, gasoline rationing may possibly be forestalled and necessary automotive rubber parts are more certain to be available, thus making it possible for civilians to have greater use of their cars.

'Bundles' outdoor supper tops in entertainment

Bundles for America's first outdoor supper held at Deer Grove last Saturday, was a big success and well attended in spite of the weather. The children's activities, because of the rain, were limited to inside the shelter where two roaring fires in the fireplaces made it cozy for all. Under the capable direction of Mr. Ray Hayes, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Brady and Mrs. Wm. Brown, the children had a lively time. Ice cream cones and pop helped to make up for the disappointment of no outdoor races.

Mr. Douglas McCay from Chicago amused everyone with sleight of hand tricks, picking cards out of strange places and performing many other wonderful feats of magic. Mrs. Nicholas Mayer, a member of the local unit, added a mysterious note by telling fortunes. Wonderful accordion music was furnished by Mr. Duncan Annan from Chicago.

The Junior Auxiliary were hostesses to twenty two handsome boys from Great Lakes Naval Training Station at the affair. After supper the girls and sailors proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hartford for a few hours and then on to the Victory Dance at St. Mary's Training School where they escorted Miss Arlington, Marion Hartke, down the length of the ballroom to the stirring music of "Anchors Aweigh." The boys stayed for the week-end and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Attwood of Stonegate, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith of Inverness, and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tackett and Mr. and Mrs. George Hartford, where they had breakfast and later were entertained for dinner by the Attwoods and the Hartfords.

The Lady Eve doll was claimed at the picnic by its new owner, Miss Margie Sledg, who took proud possession to the envy of all around. Two sailor boys made the drawing for the winning number. The sailor boys who attended the party as guests of the Junior Auxiliary were from the Intelligence and public relations department of Great Lakes, and arrangements for their attendance were made by Jack Wherry, a boy who has been corresponding with members of the local unit of Bundles for America, since receiving a Comfort Kit from the unit. A letter from Jack expresses the boys' appreciation of affairs of this kind.

Bundles for America, Arlington Heights Unit, Arlington Heights, Ill.

Dear Ladies:

In behalf of the sailors of Great Lakes, myself included who were your guests at your wonderful picnic and dance, I wish to express our sincere gratitude and appreciation for the marvelous time we all had. People everywhere have done a lot to boost our morale, but never in my experience have I seen anything quite so successful as that which you have done. Words fail me to express the way we feel about you, but you may be certain that this occasion will never be forgotten by any one of us.

Sacrifices that we may be called upon to make will be so much easier when we know that there are people like you at home who appreciate us besides our families.

Sincerely

Jack Wherry Y3/c.

Members of the Junior Auxiliary and their sailor guests were:

Carol Mundy, Dorothy Mundt, Winifred Wensley, Nancy Tackett, Marian Hardke, Ardelle Wood, Alice Drechsel, Marjorie Bauman, Shirley Jonas, Naomi Smart, Lorraine McCoy, Joan Foreman, Darlene Hamm, and Marian Babbitt. Several guests from other communities also attended the affair.

Bill Kauss, Frank Angus McNally, Jr., Vincent J. Keenan, Michael Quinlan, George Henningsen, Jim Hayes, Martin Johnson, Bill Mich, Jim O'Hare, Ernest Schicht, Jr., Albert Grogan, Edwin Conlen, John Logan, Louis Gross, Donald Flory, Kenneth Fisher, Randy Schefer, Al Shaeffer, Pat Kelly, Jack Wherry, Jim Ellis, and one other sailor lad who slipped out without registering.

READING & WRITING

By Edwin Seaver and Robin McKown

JUNE 22ND marks the first anniversary of Russia's heroic resistance to Nazi invasion. A good book to read for the occasion is "Only The Stars Are Neutral," by Quentin Reynolds, the noted war correspondent for Collier's magazine.

Quentin Reynolds was one of the few foreigners in Russia who, even when things were at their worst, was laying bets that the Germans would never reach Moscow.

Things he admired most about Russia: the bravery and resourcefulness of the people during air-raids; the efficiency of Russia's men in white; the armament factories; and Lepeshinskaya, the ballet dancer.

One thing that grieved him, however, was the strict censorship. He tells an amusing story about this. Lord Beaverbrook was holding nightly conferences with Stalin, and became increasingly impressed with the Russian leader's technical knowledge about British and American tanks and airplanes. One night Beaverbrook told Reynolds, "Stalin checked me up on something tonight. I was talking about the Hurricane motor. I was telling him how good it was. 'It has 1350 horsepower,' I said. To which Stalin smiled and said, 'Oh, no it has 1250 horsepower.'"

Beaverbrook, always relishing a joke, even one on himself, laughed at the recollection of how he, a former Minister of Aircraft Production, could have made such a slip.

But the Russian censorship didn't laugh when Quentin Reynolds tried to pass the story on the wires. "It would be discourteous to Lord Beaverbrook to let the item go," they told him.

Another exciting book about Russia is "Russians Don't Surrender," by a 34-year-old Russian newspaperman, Alexander Poliakov. Mr. Poliakov traveled with a Russian Unit which for a number of weeks was trapped behind the German lines, and this book tells of his experiences. One of his comrades' favorite ways of harassing the Nazis was to send out a man, dressed as a German, to misdirect German supply troops. They did this successfully time after time. One night, by firing a few well directed shots, they managed to get two German divisions shooting at each other for hours.

A number of readers will remember Stephen Vincent Benét's Civil War poem, "John Brown's Body." Also, this same author's grand short stories like "The Devil and Daniel Webster." Now, the Book-of-the-Month Club announces that its next book-dividend will be a two-volume edition of Benét's selected stories and poems.

Robert Van Gelder, literary interviewer for the New York Times, tells this story about Martha Foley, who with her husband Whit Burnett, edits Story Magazine. The Foley and Burnett home atmosphere is a literary one, so much so that their three-year-old son hears little except talk about writing. One day the son was making conversation with the janitor. "And how is your novel coming along?" he asked politely. The janitor explained then that it was his job to throw novels out—not to write them.

Paulette Goddard and James Stewart put the emphasis on romance in James Stewart's "Pot O' Gold," the gay comedy with music and melody, which starts a run at the Palatine Theatre on Sunday including Monday - Tuesday, "Law of the Tropics" starring Jeffry Lynn and Constance Bennett is the second feature on this bill.

Gems of thought

FREEDOM
There are two freedoms—the false, where a man is free to do what he likes; the true, where a man is free to do what he ought.

—Charles Kingsley.

None are more hopelessly enslaved than those who falsely believe they are free.

—Goethe.
Do you wish to be free? Then above all things love God, love your neighbor, love one another, love the common weal; then you will have true liberty.

—Savonarola.
It is impossible to mentally or socially enslave a Bible-reading people. The principles of the Bible are the ground-work of human freedom.

—Horace Greeley.
The letter of the law of God, separated from its spirit, tends to demoralize mortals, and must be corrected by a diviner sense of liberty and light.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.

47 volunteer nurses graduate at Palatine

Ceremony at Cutting hall Thursday eve

Cutting Hall, Palatine, is to be the scene of the graduation of the first class of Palatine Volunteer Nurses to be graduated in that village. To the forty-seven members of this class the awarding of these certificates is the reward for many hours of painstaking study and hard work. The Palatine Civilian Defense Council, which sponsored this class feels that it is one of the most worthwhile projects in the present program. To the doctors who so freely gave their time and to Miss Beth Sherman, instructor, whose foresight and diligence made the course possible, the Council wishes to express its thanks. There has been an outstanding example of cooperation by all concerned. Plans are now being formed to enroll members who are interested in taking this same course in the fall. Miss Sherman is accepting applications for this class at the present time.

A most interesting program is to be offered to the public and friends Thursday evening, and all are urged to attend the exercises where Harold Enright, prominent Chicago Attorney, will be the main speaker.

Uncle Sam offers civilian pilot training July 1

Men between the ages of 18 and 36, inclusive now can learn aviation at government expense even though they cannot meet the Army's stringent physical requirements for combat pilots. On July 1, Elmhurst College opens its first eight week Civilian Pilot Training School, ready to receive ten such men.

Volunteers are being accepted now by program coordinator Elmer H. Tiedemann at Elmhurst College and Willis J. Rollins at the Elmhurst air port. In addition to ground school and flying instruction, the men will receive lodging, meals, and health and accident insurance. Late applicants will get a priority rating for admission to later classes.

Upon the completion of the eight weeks of elementary training, the men will be eligible for advanced study. There are six C.P.T. courses. In subsequent eight week periods, men may study secondary flight training, cross-country, Link-instrument, instructor, and flight officer training.

"About 50 per cent of all trainees will be taken through at least four courses," Tiedemann predicted. The men at Elmhurst, however, will be given a special opportunity to continue in training for piloting gliders.

As coordinator between the Army and the college, Tiedemann pointed out that only those men who fail to meet Army Air Cadet training requirements will be accepted for the new Civilian Pilot Training at Elmhurst. This includes all men between the ages of 27 and 37, inclusive and all those 18 to 26 who were rejected after trying to enlist. No specific educational requirements have been laid down.

JEEPTOONS + + + By Fighting Men

Men of the fighting services are adept with pen and brush, as proved in art groups in USO clubs. USO presents examples of their work in a series of "Jeeptoons." Here's a laugh on the sea-going service.

How to harness Dobbin

Harnessing a horse is virtually a lost art — but one which may be reclaimed a lot faster than the nation's old aluminum pots and pans.

Noting the increasing difficulties of personal automotive transportation, the safety education department of the Aetna Life Insurance Company has issued, in the lighter vein, the following instructive bulletin:

"Before we get into the technicalities of how to harness a horse — when you get one — it seems desirable to set forth a brief glossary of technical stable terms which, if not defined, might be as incomprehensible as Sanskrit to the average motorist. You should, therefore, be familiar with the following terms:

"Stall — the horse's garage.
"Hames — steel necktie which the horse wears in his collar.
"Saddle-pad — that which the horse wears on his back. Difficult to define but necessary, very necessary.
"Crupper — harness loop which fits around the base of the tail.
"Breed Collar and Traces — a sort of a power transmission belt.
"Bridle, Bit and Reins — the steering gear.
"Girth — girdle, worn by male and female horses.
"Terrets — this one baffled us, too.
"Shanks Mare — a pseudo-horse. Unharnessable.
"Now, having gotten that out of the way, let's go out to the barn and get to work. A word of warning, though: Just as a word description of how to tie one's shoe strings would be more involved than the actual process after one has done it a few times, harnessing a horse is not so difficult after one knows how. The procedure is as follows:

"1. Untie the steed and back him from his stall to the barn floor.
"2. If he will stand without hitching, O. K. If not you will have to snap the two ropes that you will find there into the side rings in the halter.
"3. Take the saddle-pad and apertures and place it in position.
"4. Take the crupper and put the tail through it. This is done by folding back the long hair that extends beyond the fleshy part of the tail and putting the folded tail through the crupper.
"5. Seat the crupper in place by pulling the back strap taut.
"6. Fasten the inside girth.
"7. Take the breast collar, with the traces, and the bridle 'assembly' in your left hand. Remove halter and slip breast collar over head and neck. (Horse's head — not yours). If a hames collar is used instead of a breast collar, that is 'something else again.' The solid collar must be slid over the horse's face upside down and turned into position just as it reaches the smallest part of the neck. The hames are then put in place and fastened by the strap at the bottom. The traces are permanently attached to the hames so you can't go wrong there.
"8. Holding the bit in left hand and top of bridle in right hand, put the bridle on. (This requires some finesse. If the horse yawns at the opportune moment, your job is easy. Otherwise, the upper and lower jaws must be pried apart gently and the bit put in position). Then the left ear is inserted in the proper place and then the right.
"9. Fasten the throat-latch. This is the strap that goes around the jaw. Don't get it too tight or you'll choke Dobbin.
"10. Lead horse in position in front of buggy. Draw buggy slowly forward, putting the shafts through the shaft loops which are on either side of the girth.
"11. Fasten the traces or tugs to the wiffle-tree, putting them through the loops that you will find on the shafts.
"12. Fasten hold-back straps. These should be not too tight nor too loose. (Better get some expert advice on this point).
"13. Fasten the outer girth.
"14. Loosen reins from bit and run them under the breast collar and through the terrets. Buckle ends.
"15. Fasten the check rein.
"Giddap!
"If this is too complicated and you have decided to take up walking in a big way, you will want to read our next bulletin, 'Putting One Foot in Front of the Other.'

Gay nineties bridge joins war program

The old Bulkley bridge, built near Libertyville during the Gay Nineties, is to be torn down for scrap value it was revealed last week. The bridge has long been out of use and petitions presented to the town board for its removal are certain to be approved.

The bridge is a landmark of the 1890's and, when built, was adjudged a masterpiece of architecture. The gravel highway leading to it has long been outmoded and superseded by a new route and bridge.

TRUCK AND CAR COLLIDE ON SKOKIE

A Wisconsin truck and a Deerfield car collided Saturday morning about 1 a. m. along Skokie road near County line, rd., with no injuries to either driver.

Harold Byers, Wisconsin Rapids, had been driving north on 41 when A. L. Sandy of Deerfield turned into his truck from the inner lane. Sandy allegedly had stopped in the inner lane and was being passed by Byers when the collision occurred.

Home building lags in May

Permits for new building issued in May throughout the Chicago region amounted to $12,634,378, according to the reports of the City of Chicago, 89 suburban towns, and the counties of Cook, DuPage, Kane and Lake.

Differences between months in the amount of building are now due chiefly to the values of the plants started for the production of war materials. Monthly totals no longer indicate trends and may not do so for the duration. Obviously when the chief item in the April reports was a $74,000,000 war plant, while that in May is a $6,000,000 war plant, comparison of the monthly totals does not mean that building has fallen off by $68,000,000. It does mean that in every month the construction industries are throwing unlimited energy, man power and materials into the production of housing for the manufacturers of machines and supplies for the fighting forces.

The effects of Conservation Order No. L-41 of the War Production Board were even more evident in May than in April. The issuing of permits for homes with a value above that of homes in the Defense bracket class practically stopped, so that the records of all home building are nearly the same. In other words, with few exceptions, home building now means Defense home building.

Home building in towns of this area included Arlington Heights, a $350 garage; Bensenville, 2 homes, $9,860; Des Plaines 5, $25,775; Glenview, 1, $5,900; Mount Prospect, garage, $380; Northbrook, garages, $1,140; Skokie, garages, $1,850.

Big controversy about 'row' houses in Park Ridge

A heated controversy developed last week at a zoning hearing in Park Ridge with respect to the erection of row houses in areas zoned for either apartment or business houses. Local realtors both praised and objected to the erection of these homes.

The row house consists of a series of adjoining dwellings with firewalls between the units. The city attorney had previously ruled that under existing regulations, such a type of house could not be erected in Park Ridge. Main objection to these homes was the fear that they would degenerate into tenements.

PALATINE, CHICAGO CARS COLLIDE

John Hunt, Chicago, collided Saturday evening at the junction of route 14 with Baldwin road with Mr. Brinkman of Palatine. Hunt had been driving towards Chicago on the highway while Brinkman had stopped for the stop sign and then started across route 14 when the collision occurred. Damage was not large.

Oh-da-ko-ta opens summer season

The opening period of Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta started last Sunday with an attendance of 86 campers and leaders. The camp shows a spic and span appearance and a number of new improvements are in evidence this year. A new stove in the kitchen provides for cooking by gas which will be a welcome relief on the hot summer days when the old coal range furnished plenty of heat in addition to that of the weather.

The new Emergency Service Unit which is set up in the site formerly used by the Indian Village is a very complete and inviting camp. The campers are billeted in wall tents with wood floors and the Emergency Service Training program will be provided for all First Class Scouts. Those Scouts under 15 will qualify as Emergency Service Apprentices and those over 15 will qualify as certified members of the Emergency Service Corps.

Two new boat docks have been provided this year and the old boat dock directly in front of the boat house is being moved to the Lake shore immediately in front of the Emergency Service unit and will be particularly popular as a fishing pier.

The following Scouts will be in attendance the second week, starting Sunday, June 28: Wm. Matzdorf, Edwin Schmidt, Harry Gustafson, James Neagle, Robt. Weaver, Albert Hammer, Roger Smith of Troop 9, Palatine; and Robt. Blessing of Troop 15, Skokie.

Wheeling USO drive moves on

Many Wheeling boys have already been enjoying the services of the USO centers near their training posts. Now for the first time Wheeling people have the opportunity to contribute locally.

Mrs. Merle Willis has been appointed fund chairman for the present campaign and will be glad to give you an official receipt for your donation: L. C. Holtje, E. J. Wellfin, Hans Schmidt, Lloyd Kelm, William Schwall, Arthur Ortel and August Grewe. Wheeling's quota is $150.00.

Will you help "go over the top?"

Private Charles Cokenower is now in training with the F. A. R. T. C. at Fort Sill, Okla.

Miss Ruth Rockenback recently enjoyed a week's vacation from her duties at the local exchange. She visited with her aunts in Chicago and Harvey, Ill.

Mrs. Francis Gloden entertained a group of friends at a stork shower on Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Howard Stryker of Deerfield.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Underwood of Joliet were guests at the Ernest Kruse home on Sunday.

Miss Nancy Weidner of Libertyville is vacationing here with her aunt, Mrs. Frank Utpadel.

Messrs. Hans Schmidt, Robert Utpadel and William Wiest accompanied Herman Meyer of Arlington Heights to Princeton, Wis., on Sunday where they spent the day fishing at Lake Puckaway. Rough water kept them from making their usual catch.

Mr. F. Geimer has been seriously ill at his home on Dundee road.

Mrs. Edward Bellmore has been a patient at Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, during the past week.

Otto Utpadel received a father's day telegram from his son, Corp. Richard Utpadel. Richard is in training at the Marine aviation school at Jacksonville and has recently won the promotion to corporal.

Have you remembered to hunt up those unused rubber articles on your premises? The drive is drawing to a close and will not be successful unless every ounce of idle rubber is brought out, where it will be put to work. Get busy today and take your scrap rubber to your nearest filling station.

A corrected statement of the office hours of the local ration board is as follows: Monday, through Friday 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. The location is in the Wheeling Press.

Just four more weeks remain before the annual Wheeling Day Celebration. It's not too early to begin advertising among your friends and relatives of surrounding towns. Also, if you are not an active member of either the Chamber of Commerce or Fire Department, why not offer your services. Much work must be done to make the celebration a success.

Sergeant Donald Wellfin was one of fifteen men, who left Perin Field, Texas, on Tuesday, to enter the Air Corps Administration Officers Candidate School at Miami, Florida.

Messrs. Arthur Miller and Arthur Fassbender, Sr., returned home on Sunday from a week of good fishing in Minnesota. Their fish stories were well supported by the fish dinners enjoyed by many of their friends this week.

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

Phil Carpenter convalescing

Philip Carpenter has been convalescing at the Highland Park hospital from the injuries he received last Thursday evening at Mt. Prospect.

Phil was crossing the tracks to enter the Northwestern depot when a piece of flying wreckage threw him almost under the wheels of the fast train which had struck a car in which two occupants were killed. Phil was given first aid in Mt. Prospect and hospitalized at Highland Park. Besides severe bruises and shock Phil suffered broken bones in one foot.

Phil's chief concern however has been the set-back regarding his entrance into the air corps where he had taken preliminary steps for enlistment.

33 enroll in vacation school

The sixth annual vacation church school conducted by the Wheeling Presbyterian church, opened on Monday morning for a two week period. Thirty-three children enrolled at the first session and eleven more on the second day.

The school is meeting at the community hall this year for the first time, to provide more room for the various activities of the school. The Rev. D. C. Morrison is director of the school.

Sixteen relatives were entertained at the Victor Hab-n home on Sunday, June 14, in honor of Miss Barbara Haben's graduation. Barbara was one of nine graduates of St. Mary's school who received their diplomas during an impressive ceremony at morning mass on that day.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perolat motored to Waukesha, Wis., to spend Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Erlanson.

The Misses Evelyn and Marjorie Mohr spent Sunday with their sister's family, the Frank Utpadels.

It Happened Here

SANCTUARY
The light breeze whispers thru the trees
And rustles with the sound of rain,
While in their covert cool all day
The mourning doves complain.
The rose fulfils the lily's cup
Each to the other lending—
A cup to slake a lover's drought
With heady nectars blending.

So fragrant is this rosy hedge
This sure its perfume drifts afar
To where beyond an idling cloud
The angels leave their door ajar.
Blown petals lie upon the grass,
So lightly, gently do they fall
Their drifting seems a sequence meet,
To the hid dove's sweet call.

The veery sings a hymn of peace
And He walks in this cloistered spot
Where rose and lily in Him meet
And fools and scoffers enter not.

The teachers, scheduled to march at 11 a. m. on Flag Day, were asked to give place to the Bartenders Union, which, Ed thinks, is O. K., giving the teachers a chance to attend church and the bar tenders not to.

The Arlington seniors finally had their June social, and what a social!! After the business meeting during which time they welcomed about ten new members, they drove out to Elk Grove for a wiener roast. The night was warm, the moon was high, the fire was big, the food was plentiful, and what else?

A number of the zone members attended the Youth Service at Grace church in River Forest Wednesday night.

We extend our sincere sympathies to the Colha family and Meyer family in the recent deaths of their mothers. Ted and Art Meyer both returned from their army stations this week.

We extend congratulations to Lydia Miller of Arlington, Bernice Linnemann of Palatine, and Vic Fohlmann of Schaumburg on their recent engagements.

Your zone president and leadership training chairman attended the district conference at Hillside Country club last Sunday and both gained a wealth of knowledge on how to gain new members, how to improve our rallies, how to promote interest in the board meetings, and many other items they will insert into our program this year.

especial interest is the provision relating to soldiers and sailors after the discharge from the military or naval service. The original act provided that where a soldier or sailor had certain liabilities such as taxes, installment payments on mortgage contracts, etc., at the time of entry into service, those liabilities must be paid or adjusted within six months after discharge from service. This would mean that the soldier must find a job and earn or procure the money needed to pay these obligations or he might lose his property or his rights under a contract. An amended, the soldier or sailor, after discharge from the service, who finds that he cannot meet the obligations and payments which piled up while he was in service can apply to a court for further relief and the court may, if it so finds after an investigation of all the facts, issue an order which would prevent the enforcement of any assessments, taxes or other obligations of the soldier or sailor for a period of time equal to the time spent in the army or navy. In the case of real estate contracts on which the soldier or sailor owes money, the time might by court order be extended for the life of the mortgage contract.

The president's whirlwind two-week rubber salvage campaign started a "rubber rush" among Chicago youngsters and oldsters last week.

A $4,000 bonanza was struck and mining operations began on a big and hasty scale. It wasn't gold or oil. It was rubber.

Small boy prospectors turned up the rich strike in the ruins of a burned westside warehouse. Abandoned as valueless and covered over by cinders after a fire three years ago, 200 tons of baled tire materials became worth one cent a pound. Nearly 10 men and boys swarmed to the scene, staking out claims in regular Cimmaron fashion. One miner counted $65 from his penny-a-pound sales to nearby gasoline stations the first day.

Sugar

Stamps 5 and 6 in war ration books are valid for four weeks instead of two. No change in the consumer ration of a half-pound a week, however. Stamp 4 is good for purchase of a single pound of sugar until midnight, June 27, after which stamp 5 is valid for the purchase of two pounds from June 28 to midnight, July 25. Stamp 6, also good for a two-pound purchase, may be used from July 26 to August 2.

More air power

Last week, the House of Representatives authorized a further expansion of the U. S. Navy. The new bill provides an addition of 1,900,000 tons of aircraft carriers, cruisers and destroyers. It also provides for 800 smaller vessels such as submarines, patrol boats and mine sweepers. It also carries authority to acquire and convert 200 smaller vessels for auxiliary duties. This new authority will provide a maximum fleet tonnage of 3,749,480 tons and gives us the greatest fleet in all the world. We now have more than a million tons of combat vessels in service and 2,646,600 tons under construction. It is expected that this new fleet with its overpowering strength will be entirely completed and in service by the end of 1946. But note this. No new battleships are authorized. The accent is on aircraft carriers and swift moving cruisers and destroyers. Once there was a man named Billy Mitchell who talked of air power. Page General Mitchell that he may witness the revolution of warfare. Next step will be land-based aircraft of such range and power that even carriers will not be required.

Servicemens' relief

This week, the House of Representatives enacted amendments to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Act which broadens the scope of such relief very materially. The act was originally passed and became law on October 17th, 1940 and experience under this law since that date indicated a clear need for clarifying amendments as a result of a number of court cases. Of

Passes $135.62 bill

Believe it or not (with apologies to Ripley): During the present session of Congress, bills appropriating billions of dollars have been passed with little or no debate and without any dissenting notes. Last week, however, the House of Representatives concerned itself over an item involving $135.62 to the extent that two speeches were delivered and a vote of the House taken before it was disposed of. Under the law, the federal government, being a sovereign power cannot be sued without its consent. Hence persons having claims against the government for personal injuries or for loss or destruction of property due to the fault or negligence of the government or one of its employees, or in unusual cases where facts are in dispute and there is no specific authorization for remuneration, must appeal to the Congress for relief. This is done by contacting the Congressmen and convincing him that there is enough merit in the claim to justify him in introducing a private bill to authorize its payment. Such bills are referred to the Committee on Claims, are subject to strict scrutiny and investigation and if deemed worthy are reported to the House for final action by that body. The bill in question was the claim of a 90-year old citizen of New York who claimed that in 1878 he had, while employed in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, worked two hours overtime each day for 155 days. The Navy Department was unable to dispute the claim because the records had been lost, misplaced or destroyed. The House finally passed the bill in the amount of $135.62 but eliminated interest on it which would have been considerably more than the original amount. It must now pass two more hurdles, the Senate and the President, before the monogerman can spend his money.

Heels

Some shoe repair shops now have to turn in old rubber heels in order to get new ones from the factory. Car cards in New York City subway include help wanted ads sponsored by the U. S. Employment Service, offering jobs as farm hands to the city folk. Outdoor "drive-in" movies around Chicago now average 5.2 persons per car, against 3.6 a year ago. A Midwest manufacturer is said to have put together a wooden bathtub that looks like porcelain. In cities where weather reports are given regularly on a telephone system, timely tips on what that day's weather means in terms of tire care are given. Sample from Columbus, Ohio: "Fair and warmer, so go slow; heated tires are apt to blow." The advice about converting oil burners back to use of coal, where possible, is being repeated, but emphatically!

Time-tables

Time-tables show war's backlashes at mass transportation, as well as autos and bikes. Many customary vacation and excursion trains are omitted, expresses converted into locals. American Airlines timetable used to be 11 pages, now it's two! Department store sales nationally are barely holding their own, in dollar volume, compared to same weeks of 1941. One of those price "squeezes" that bother retailers was relieved when the big three of soap-makers, Colgate, Palmolive-Peet, Procter and Gamble and Lever Brothers—rescinded factory price rises averaging 3 1/2 per cent. Curtiss-Wright announces a $10,000,000 program for enlarging its Buffalo plants, to boost production capacity of huge cargo planes. Plenty of cool clothes for men this summer. Stocks of tropical westside and cotton hot weather suits are normal.

Criss-crossing

For some time ODT and WPB have been contemplating ways to cut down on "cross-hauling," which causes unnecessarily long hauls of goods from producer to customer, especially of foods. Now a group of the largest chain store companies, pioneers in marketing short-cuts, are moving on their own to ban criss-crossing in distribution of fresh fruits and vegetables. Along with extension men, county agents and college experts of eight states, they're working on plans to supply, so far as possible, the retail stores of a given area with produce of that area—Michigan apples for Detroiters, for instance.

Football fields

The "wholesale" specifying and ordering of giant buildings and giant building tools — on a scale hardly even imagined in peacetime — is given part credit for the speed with which aluminum plants are getting into operation. These examples are cited by Thomas D. Jolly, chief engineer of Aluminum Company of America in charge of building Alcoa's own plants and the 16 it is putting up for the government. Ordering 175 cranes of the same span and capacity "all at once" enabled the crane builder to put that job on a production-line basis and increase efficiency 50 per cent. Erecting 72 buildings from the same set of drawings helped the company put $35 acres of floor space under roof since January 1, 1940. (That area is enough to accommodate 253 football fields, including the end zones). Another time-saving maneuver was the borrowing of 13,000 tons of silver from the U. S. Treasury, for use in lieu of the less "precious" but far more war-scarce copper. The silver'll be back to the vaults when the war's over.

Gas ration results

Eastern seaboard states checked up after a month of gas rationing, found: highway accidents had dropped off by half in some areas; traffic fatalities decreased up to 40 per cent; juvenile delinquency abated as parents refused to let Junior have the car; toll bridges suffered terrific drops in revenue, in some cases as high as 75 per cent; service stations withered or died (in Rhode Island, half of them were forced to close); and golf, minor league baseball and seaside resorts were seriously crippled. Now the OPA is considering a three-cents-a-gallon boost in retail gasoline prices in these states, to help meet the added oil transportation costs. The theory is that it would be less of a cost-of-living booster to tack it on there than to add it to fuel oil prices.

Ration doctors

A short time ago, an American Medical Association official observed that doctor calls might have to be "rationed" for the duration. The reason behind this is the immense number of doctors being called for service in the military forces. According to army heads, thousands more will be needed in the future.

The American people are at last learning one inescapable fact — everyone must help pay for this war. The old slogan, "Soak the rich," no longer has any meaning. The new tax bill goes down into income brackets never before reached. And, in the view of economists who deal with facts, not hopes, it will not be long before the people of small and moderate means will have to be hit harder still. The people in the higher and high income brackets are already paying just about all the traffic will bear without total confiscation of income. We can't substantially increase taxes on industry without depriving it of the money that is vital to its progress, expansion and solvency. Nothing is left save to turn to the lower income groups — and those groups are the groups which, for the most

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Mary:

Last Monday was the bluest Monday of our entire year. Dave went back to work! He broke his own record for rainy weather vacations. This time there were three days out of the fourteen when it DID NOT rain! There were times when I felt so sorry for him that I could have wept. Especially because he tried to be so cheerful about it. . . . going about telling us it was the finest vacation he'd ever had! . . . how much he liked just being at home with his family! . . .

part, are receiving the bulk of the vastly increased purchasing power resulting from war expenditures. The annual income tax will not be adequate. Some system for collecting taxes, in part, on a monthly basis will be put into effect. Dire necessity is also likely to force the passage of a general sales tax.

Price ceilings

Price Administrator Henderson told the press if price ceilings hold during the next twenty months the entire war effort will cost $92 billion less than it would cost if prices rose as they did during the last year. He said savings on steel alone under price ceiling were more than $161 million in 1941.

He said subsidies are necessary, however, to support price ceilings at March levels and to prevent suffering among consumers and retailers. Other "major threats" to price stabilization remain in the yet-unaffected parts of President Roosevelt's anti-inflation program, including holding down agricultural prices, stabilization of wages, and the failure to reduce the inflationary gap through any tax action to date, he said.

Approximately 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 persons eventually may be helped with price control and rationing, although few of them will be concerned directly with enforcement, he said. He stated he might take over some of the WPA staff in setting up the OPA organizations in state and district offices, because its facilities apparently were available as more and more people were going into employment from relief rolls.

The Labor Department said living costs in large cities dropped 0.1 per cent between May 15 and June 2, the first drop in such costs since November, 1940. Clothing, housefurnishing and rent costs all declined, but food costs continued to advance. The Department's index of nearly 900 wholesale prices dropped 0.3 per cent during the week ended June 13, but was still 13.5 per cent above a year ago.

on a train . . . and although Dave and I have gone down town many times on the Northwestern, it was the first time Dave had been on a streamlined train or seen a diner or parlor car. . . .

We had some misgivings about taking Louis on an all day trip but our fears were ungrounded. . . . we were angelic. . . . most of the time. . . . we had a delicious breakfast in the diner while watching the beautiful green gardens of the north shore whirled by. . . . every so often there would be a glimpse of the lake. . . . very blue that day. . . . with an equally blue sky above it in which rolled fat white clouds. . . . Dave knows that it's called Lake Michigan but he always speaks of it as "our lake."

Invest in liberty

. . . that expresses my own feelings about it. . . . I've lived beside it for so much of my life, I think of it as My Lake. . . . we can't see it from Shady Rest but I know that by walking to the end of our street it will be there. . . . we're close enough so that on days when the wind is coming off the lake we get that fishy smell I've always loved. . . . if I moved too far from it, I know I'd miss it terribly. . . . don't you feel that way some times? . . . I'm sure you just because I know you loved it as I do.

But I'm wandering from my narrative again. . . . we had reserved parlor car seats because we thought it would be easier to manage the boys in the less crowded parlor car than it would be in the regular coaches. . . . this was a mistake we didn't repeat on the way home because it seemed to us that we were hardly seated when Milwaukee was upon us. . . . or should I say we were upon Milwaukee? . . .

We walked up the street from the depot to the main shopping center. . . . looking in all the store windows and gazed at the buildings just as though we were from Strawberry Point. . . . Louis who is hardly ever allowed outside the fence of his own backyard was beside himself with the excitement of it. . . . he laughed and gurgled and pointed so spontaneously as he trotted along on his fat little legs that many people smiled at the sight of him. . . . we bought a tiny Chinese vase in gorgeous colors of rose and blue as a souvenir. Dave insisted on placing it himself in the curio cabinet when we returned. . . . it sits there unabashed among mementos of trips to the tropics of Mexico and the wilds of Canada. . . .

It was close to the lunch hour now and I was worried about Louis' nap. . . . I suggested that we go to one of the nicer hotels where we could eat and then find a quiet parlor where we could put him on a couch and let him sleep while we sat and rested. . . . we found the Schroeder Hotel. . . . a policeman assured us that it was one of the best. . . . however, it had no quiet parlor that we could find. . . . only a very busy and noisy lobby. . . . we solved our problem in a most unorthodox fashion by going into the cocktail bar where there were heavily padded leather cushioned booths about the walls. . . . Louis fell asleep before the waiter could bring our food. . . . so we laid him on one of these soft seats and covered him up with Dave's coat. . . . we took seats at a small table near him where we could watch him. . . . when the waiter came with our order and saw what we had done, he didn't say a word but went and placed a large card on the table marked "reserved". . . . we were deliberately slow about eating so that by the time we were through Louis had had a nice nap. . . . then he had a little lunch. . . .

I've been to Milwaukee many times before but in each case I visited someone or was at a weekend party. . . . this time I didn't want to sit in anyone's house. . . . I wanted to see the city as a traveler does. . . . so I suggested that we take a sightseeing bus and "do the town". . . . if there was a man with a big megaphone so much the better. . . . the boys would like that. . . . alas! . . . we were informed that there were no more sightseeing buses. . . . the shortage of tires, of course! . . . we'd gotten the war for the moment. . . . Dave looked ready to cry. . . . he asked, "Why do the Germans and Japs want to fight all the time, Dave? . . . Don't they ever want to play like us?" . . . Dave's reply concerning the Germans and Japs was not refined. . . . then I said we'd take a city bus and go up their lake drive to Whitefish Bay. . . . I remembered it as being very lovely all the way. . . . but they said no buses went on that street! . . . we ended up by walking down to their lake front park. . . .

This park is in some ways more beautiful than our Grant Park, I think, because of the bluffs and it seems more natural. . . . we found a bench down near the water. . . . a stone wall running along the shore protected the boys from falling in the lake but it was low enough for them to see over it. . . . there was no automobile drive here so we relaxed and let them run where they liked. . . . so many things were going on that the children were entertained every minute. . . . little motor boats buzzed back and forth very close. . . . out farther was a bunch of small sail boats. . . . probably a regatta. . . . the big lake steamers came in here to a pier in the river. . . . but best of all there was what they called a bit granddelously a Seadrome from which small hydroplanes kept skimming out onto the water then rising into the air. . . . they'd fly around a short while then land on the water again almost in front of us. . . . we stayed until it was train time. . . .

Coming home we had dinner in the diner. . . . this took so long that we never did occupy our seats. . . . the food in this beautiful train is grand, Old Bean. . . . the menu is extensive when one considers the tiny place in which it's prepared. . . . it made me think of a time back in 1923 when we ate lamb chops purchased in San Antonio for breakfast, lunch and dinner for THREE DAYS until we reached Mexico City! . . . Estelle said it wouldn't matter to her that she couldn't speak Spanish as no one would be able to do anything but Bleet anyway by the time we got there. . . . it was so pleasant eating with my family that I beamed on all of them and told them I'd never enjoyed a trip more.

To be sure, Louis slipped down from his chair twice before Dave noticed it and was tumbling up the aisle under the negro waiter's feet. . . . thus putting himself, the waiter and several hungry passengers in imminent danger of having hot soup descend upon them. . . . Dave's face was red the second time he replaced the runaway on his chair but every one else in the car apparently found it very funny. . . . a lady who sat alone across the aisle from us beckoned to Dave. . . . when he went to her she offered him ice cream. . . . she had evidently watched how much he liked his own. . . . I heard him say, "No thank you. . . . I've had sufficient. . . . pause. . . . Besides, Eleanor doesn't allow me to take anything to eat from strangers". . . . imagine the little prig! . . . and he was imitating my voice perfectly! . . . Dave grinned but I stared out of the window as though I were watching a bombing. . . . the lady was only much amused and changed the subject by asking him what his little brother's name was. . . . he replied, "It's Louis. . . . he's named for our uncle who's dead. . . . he's cute and he's beautiful but he's a damnable nuisance". . . . to my intense relief the waiter brought the finger bowls then so Dave said hurriedly, "Excuse me please, I'll have to go back and wash my hands". . . . We got off at Davis street so tired that we taxied home. . . . do you think after this recital that you would want to take your four on the same trip? . . . we'll come out to see you some time this week. . . . I'll call you when we know the day. . . . until then my love to all, . . . As always, Eleanor.

Wheat growers crop insurance now available

The campaign to offer crop insurance to 1943 winter wheat growers in Cook county gets under way this week and will run until August 31, according to an announcement by Warren R. Macaulay, member of the county AAA committee in charge of the crop insurance program.

A deferred payment plan for the new three-year crop insurance contract is offered wheat growers the first time this year, he said. Premium payments may be made in annual installments in wheat or its cash equivalent, and will be due about harvest time.

Growers may make one payment covering premium installments for the first two of the three crop years if they choose. Collection of installments is provided for by the commodity note, a part of the three-year contract.

If installments are not paid when due, Mr. Macaulay explained, the insured premium under terms of his contract, is deducted from any indemnity, from payments earned for cooperating in the AAA farm program, or from any commodity loan he might obtain.

Although the contract specifies insurance protection against all unavoidable hazards such as drought, wind, flood, insects, and other similar hazards for three years, growers may cancel the last year of the insurance upon written notice to their local AAA committees on or before the final day for accepting contracts during the second year of the contract period. No one-year contracts will be written on 1943 wheat crop.

Farmers can sign applications for 1943 crop insurance at the county AAA office, with their community AAA committees when he makes his production check-up this month or with any county or community committee.

Preserving peas next thing on food for health budget

Just as soon as the first garden peas are brought in for dinner is the time to start canning or freezing or drying them, and that means very soon for the Illinois crop, according to Miss Grace Armstrong, extension specialist in nutrition, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Peas belong in that group of green vegetables which contribute several important vitamins and minerals to the family diet, that group usually including green beans, peas, asparagus and broccoli. If a homemaker plans on serving green vegetables at least three times a week, alternating with the healthful yellow vegetables on the other days, she will need to have as a minimum estimate about 150 servings of green vegetables to each person for the entire year, Miss Armstrong said.

Of these 150 servings, at least 40 of them might be peas, with 75 servings of string beans, 20 of asparagus and 15 of broccoli, the nutritionist indicated. However, if peas are a favorite food, as they are when they come direct from the garden, the estimated servings might be greatly increased.

From the canning standpoint, the nutritionist suggests five pints of peas for each person, this amount providing 20 servings a year. Multiplying this amount by the number of persons in the family would give the homemaker some idea of how many pints of peas she should put up for winter use.

Freezing Peas
Frozen peas keep that subtle, fresh, sweet flavor and green appearance that everyone likes. The method is simple, but one rule must be carefully followed: That is, prepare peas for freezing immediately after they have been picked. "One hour from the garden to the freezer locker" is just as important as "one hour from the garden to the can" in preserving peas.

Select sweet, tender peas of even maturity. Hull and wash. Blanch 1 quart of peas in 4 quarts of boiling water for 1 minute. Remove from hot water, cool in cold water quickly and thoroughly, then drain. Pack in cartons. Seal cartons and take them to the locker immediately.

Canning Peas
This is a "pressure cooker" vegetable. In other words, if peas are to be canned successfully and safely, the pressure cooker is a necessity. Neighborhood sharing of pressure cookers for such vegetables is a patriotic gesture at this time.

Select young, tender, freshly picked peas. Wash pods and shell only enough to fill containers to be processed at one time. Wash shelled peas. Cover with boiling water and bring to the boiling point. Pack into pint jars to 1/2 inch of the top or in No. 2 tin cans to 3/4 inch of the top. Add 1/2 teaspoon of salt (and 1 teaspoon sugar if desired) to each pint. Cover with boiling water. Process at 10 pounds pressure; pint jars 45 minutes; No. 2 can 40 minutes.

Leaving leaves behind leaves best alfalfa

"Leave the alfalfa leaves and you leave the best part of the crop."

Based on studies by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, Soils Specialist H. J. Snider makes this conclusion concerning alfalfa hay, one of the important "raw materials" being used by livestock under the food-for-freedom program.

It was found that alfalfa leaves contain 410 pounds of protein a ton, compared with 280 for the stems. The leaves contained 91 pounds of phosphorus, potassium, calcium and magnesium, while the stems contained only 82 pounds a ton.

On the Kewanee experiment field, it was found that a ton of alfalfa was made up of about 750 pounds of leaves and 1,250 pounds of stems — 37 1/2 per cent leaves and 62 1/2 per cent stems. However, the total amount of protein in a ton of alfalfa was found to be almost equally divided between leaves and stems because of the higher percentage in the leaves.

Inflation and soybeans head July 2 program

Cooperating in the National War Effort Program for farmers Cook county will join the five other counties in the northeastern section of the state in holding 600 meetings in the rural school districts at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, July 2. An organization is being perfected including township and school district leaders who will assist in these meetings and bring a message to farmers with reference to their part in the war effort at this time.

"So far farmers have had very little attention given them in the present war," states Farm Adviser A. H. Hughes. "However, the Secretary of Agriculture has designated the Extension Service of each of the Colleges of Agriculture in the various states to organize farmers on a war basis. In these meetings a number of problems, that are facing farmers in particular, will be brought up in the form of prepared messages on a number of topics that will face farmers during the coming crop season. Most important of these problems is what can the average farm family do to cooperate in the recent edict to prevent inflation. If there is anything worse than war it is inflation and subsequent depression following a war. We should be grateful for one thing at least and that is, that every possible effort is being made to head off the present inflation which is following exactly the same pattern as it did in World War No. 1, but in spite of all departmental edicts inflation cannot be prevented without the full cooperation of the citizens of the whole country. Just what farm people can do in this effort will be clearly outlined by the agricultural economists and presented to each family at these meetings."

"Other problems that are facing farmers are the harvesting and storage of the soybean crop that is coming on. Another is the prevention of farm fires at a time when building materials are being restricted and becoming impossible to secure. And lastly, the food problem is going to be magnified, and farm women have their canning to do without the use of much sugar. These problems will be presented in very understandable material furnished us by our State College of Agriculture. We hope every farm family, even though this is a very busy time, will make an effort to take a few hours off to go to their local meeting."

Announcement cards will doubtless be mailed to most farmers by the township people who are assisting in these meetings. In the meantime you will doubtless learn that the local people are and get this information. Radio station WLS will most likely carry some announcements of these widespread farm meetings on July 2.

"When we realize the vast numbers of farm and town boys who are making the greatest possible sacrifice at this time, it falls upon every farm family in Cook county to cooperate in every way they possibly can in this war effort," states Harvey W. Adair, president of the Cook County Farm Bureau. "In our cooperation with the College of Agriculture we know that we will have sound guidance in the messages that will be brought to the people of Cook county. Farmers have problems quite different from towns people that are being met in their civilian defense work. Also, after the war is over and these millions of young men return to civilian life we hope that by our efforts they can come back to a better country and a chance for a job that will be quite different from the situation after the last World War. It is up to us to join in this gigantic national movement to accomplish this very desirable result. Also, anything that farmers can do in the producing effort that will shorten the war becomes their patriotic duty."

Orders for rock phosphate are now being taken by your county AAA office. This material is available to Cooperators through the Conservation Materials Program. The cost of the phosphate is $12.50 per ton, in paper bags, delivered to shipping points over the entire county. All farmers cooperating with the AAA who have not already earned their entire Soil Building Allowance are urged to make arrangements for the delivery of lime or phosphate immediately. Roundworm may infect calves out on pasture

Three ways Illinois dairymen can reduce roundworm infestation of their calves and heifers are by treating with phenothiazine, supplying plenty of milk and providing clean pasture.

Animal pathologists of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, in making these recommendations, explain that various types of stomach and intestinal roundworms common in Illinois are responsible for much unthriftiness of young dairy stock. Severely infested calves are stunted, reduce weight, often are anemic and have diarrhea and rough haircoats. For the most part, severe cases are among younger stock — those between 4 and 18 months of age.

Because worms develop better and live longer on a moist pasture than on a dry one, well-drained pastures are usually safer. Where possible, it is well to practice rotational grazing so the young stock can be turned into clean, fresh pasture which hasn't been grazed by other cattle for several seasons. It's also a good idea to group cattle according to age, so young calves do not graze over ground contaminated by older calves and yearlings.

Tests show that generous feedings of milk and other supplements reduce exposure to roundworms because well-fed calves graze less. Also, milk in the diet retards the development of the twisted stomach worm, one of the most important internal parasites.

Since animals of rundown condition may react unfavorably to phenothiazine, the pathologists advise that treatment be under the supervision of a veterinarian.

Some soybeans to be of lower grade under new ruling

Some Illinois soybeans which formerly would have graded No. 2, the usual contract grade, will drop to grade No. 3 when the new basic method of determining moisture in grading soy beans goes into effect September 1, in the opinion of L. J. Norton, chief in agricultural marketing at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. However, prices paid to farmers should adjust so that there will be no heavy financial loss to growers, he said.

Effective September 1, the air oven will be the basic method for determining moisture in soybeans instead of the water oven which has been used heretofore. The reasons given at government hearings are that the air oven is in more common use in industry and furthermore, gives more reliable determinations under certain conditions.

The same moisture scale as now in use will be continued; that is, the maximum for No. 2 will be 14 per cent, for No. 3, 16 per cent and for No. 4, 18 per cent.

Some Illinois beans will be affected in grade because the new methods will show about one-half per cent more moisture in soybeans than the old method. That is, soybeans which formerly would have showed 14 per cent moisture and therefore would have graded No. 2 will show 14.5 per cent moisture by the new method and grade No. 3.

"The practical effect," Norton pointed out, "is to reduce maximum moisture content of the No. 2 grade, the usual contract grade, from 14 per cent moisture to 13.5 per cent, as measured by the old method."

"However, prices should adjust to this change in the grade specifications, since the base price paid for soybeans by processors presumably reflects the moisture content in the average run of contract grade and in as much as dry matter determines yields of saleable products."

Farmers who have low-moisture beans will come more nearly being paid for the dry matter in their beans. However, when moisture in beans runs high, as it did in 1942, a low moisture base grade means higher discounts. Farmers and the grain trade will never be fully paid for the superior value of dry beans until a system of premiuming for moisture lower than the base grade is put into effect."

After the new method goes into effect, moisture in soybeans will continue to be determined by the various practical devices in use in inspection offices and grain elevators. However, new conversion tables will be necessary in connection with the various devices which determine moisture, by measuring resistance to electric currents, Norton said. Adjustment also will have to be made in methods of operating the devices which determine moisture by cooking and driving off the moisture. Such adjustments will be necessary in order to get moisture determinations which are equivalent to those obtained by the base laboratory method now prescribed, that is, the air oven.

AVOID WASTE ON THE LITTLE THINGS.. SPEND FOR THE BIG THINGS. WAR SAVINGS BONDS

Higher income farm families stress savings

Illinois farm families in the higher income bracket with $2,500 to $3,000 net cash receipts available after subtracting their farm business expenses put nearly $1,000 into savings in 1941, according to their home account records which have just been summarized by home account authorities, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Of their $2,741 average net cash receipts, $936 was used for savings. This left $1,805 for family living expenses. Of this $939 was spent on purchased food, which is usually the first or second item in any family budget. Comfortably well off, the families put $242, on the average, into improving their home either in repairs or in furnishings and equipment, and $232 into clothing. The fact that these two items ranked ahead of operating costs of $215 and automobile expense of $220 indicates that the families were able to exercise considerable choice in how they would spend their funds.

Some other divisions of family living expense which may be a basis of comparison for Illinois families in similar circumstances are medical care averaging $83, recreation and recreational equipment $56, education averaging $55, church and community welfare $55, personal items $64 and gifts outside the family $57.

These expenditures were for families with four persons on the average. The value of farm furnished food, fuel and shelter added to their resources, it was pointed out by Mrs. Ruth Crawford Freeman, account specialist. However, the use of the dollars which actually came into the family pocketbook can give other families of similar circumstances an opportunity for comparing their living expenses. The figures are not a standard but a picture of what some families are doing in the way of money management to reach their goals.

Dairymen urged to feed grain during summer

Penalties in the form of low returns, a 30 per cent drop in production and thin cows are paid by dairymen for not supplying enough feed in mid and late summer.

C. S. Rhode, of the dairy department, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, for this reason suggests that dairymen begin now to feed some grain to the good producers, even though they are on good pasture.

The amount of grain to feed will be determined by the production of individual cows and the amount and quality of the pasture. When pastures become short and dry, it will be necessary to add hay as well as grain.

Enough feed should be supplied at all times to keep cows in good condition and to prevent more than a normal decline in milk production. Usually one pound of grain daily to each four to six pounds of milk is sufficient. When pastures are green and succulent, farm grains alone may be used, but a 13 to 15 per cent mixture will be needed later on in the season, Rhode said.

The rapid decline in milk production will start as soon as pastures begin to fade, and in a few months' time rock-bottom will be reached. Lack of feed is the main reason for the decline that will come in July and August.

Youth makes good showing

Left to right: Stanley Arendt, Jr., Palatine, son of Stanley Arendt manager and pro at Inverness Golf Club; Ken Abel, Roselle, and Lawrence Geils, etc. of the 1942 Bensenville high school golf team. These three are young boys. Arendt is the youngest in the tournament — 14. Abel, 21, holed out a wood shot from 200 yards out for an eagle 3 on the par 5 9th hole. This is the first eagle in the history of the meet. — Coffman photo.

'Big six' of PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS' tourney

Left to right: Bob Schuler, Mt. Prospect, registers out of Rolling Green; Robert Geils, Bensenville, Frank Foote, Des Plaines, Al Edenberg, Des Plaines, Leonard Johnson, Jr., Mt. Prospect, and Reilly Bird of Mt. Prospect. The three standing to the left of the cups and medals are the low gross leaders. The three to the right are the net leaders. If you want to include their scores in the caption refer to the list of scores. — Coffman photo.

Red Wings down First round scores

Glenview 4-1

The Arlington Red Wings trounced their ancient rivals from Glenview by a score of 4 to 1 at Recreation Park last Sunday, behind the masterful pitching of Geo. Schaefer, who held Glenview to five scattered hits. His teammates accorded him perfect support.

It was good to see "Ray" Willert emerge from his batting slump by hitting a single and triple and accounting for a run.

"Irv" Lemke, Oscar Lawrenz, Sam Arnato and "Bob" Sewaski each got two hits and Art Schiewe, as usual, caught a fine game and knocked in one of the four runs with a single in the first inning.

The local team really looked like their old selves and if they continue hitting they should win plenty games behind Schaefer.

Next Sunday the Buick Crafts-men will be our guests. The Buicks have all minor leaguers on their roster.

Have you set aside the Fourth of July as well as the Fifth? You will be missing two good games if you don't.

Batteries last Sunday — Glenview, McKlieg and Sherman; Red Wings, Schaefer and Schiewe.

Mohawk Golf club miss wants to hear from Jr. golfers

Little Miss Sharon Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wallace, managers of Mohawk Golf Club in Bensenville, believes the juniors should have a twilight league of their own. The age limit could be confined to 11 to 16. The greens fee would be nominal enough so that Dad and Mom could come along and play a waiting round on the big course. The juniors would play on the shorter ladies' 9-hole course.

Junior golfers interested should write to or phone Miss Wallace at Bensenville 140, Mohawk Golf club, Bensenville.

IT'S THE LAW

FOR ALL WHO RUN TO READ To say that something is "for all who run to read" means that it is for all the world to see. Since the advent of the automobile, the airplane and streamlined chariots of all kinds, not many persons run any more. But practically every one reads, and the medium universally read is the newspaper.

Not only is it true that practically every American of school age, and above, reads newspapers regularly but he reads them pretty thoroughly. It is often astonishing how many persons see and talk about a small item tucked away in what seems to be an obscure corner of the newspaper. It's not only the big stories that habitually attract the reader's eye.

It is the best possible proof of the effectiveness of the newspaper as a means of communication. This is especially important in connection with the publication of Public Notices of all kinds required and provided by law. Next to direct personal Notice, which is not always possible or necessary, the newspaper offers the best means of giving such Notice. The chances are, too, that it will be seen there by those it concerns.

Arlington Softball

June 19 Standings

Heidorn	3	W. L.
Gaare	2	1
Benj. Electric	1	2
C.Y.O.	1	2
Mt. Prospect	1	2
Rudy	1	2

Schedule for next two weeks:

Week of June 22:

Monday — Heidorn vs. Gaare.

Wednesday — Mt. Prospect vs. C.Y.O.

Thursday — Rudy's vs. Benjamin Electric.

Week of June 29:

Monday — Mt. Prospect vs. Gaare.

Wednesday — C.Y.O. vs. Benj. Electric.

Thursday — Rudy's vs. Heidorn.

The Heidorn team held the lead in the Arlington Softball League at the end of three weeks of play.

With wins over Mt. Prospect and C.Y.O. to their credit, they met Benjamin Electric last Tuesday night in a struggle for league leadership. The game went eight innings before Heidorn's punched out the winning runs on a walk and two hits.

"Red" Koelling, with a double and single, was the power in the Heidorn line-up, figuring in both big rallies. Eickelmann was the winning pitcher.

C.Y.O. dropped out of the undefeated class in the second week of play as they met Gaare's Studebakers and lost, 7-0. The Studebakers put over four runs in the first inning, with Mel Garmis hitting a homer to climax the attack.

Bublitz and Kehe for the winners and Weidner of the losers hit doubles.

The C.Y.O. team collected five hits, one in each of the first five innings, but were unable to cash in on their opportunities.

Gaare's clung to second place by beating Rudy's 7-3 on Wednesday night of last week. Leading 3-1 going into the fifth the Studebakers scored twice in the fifth and again in the sixth. Herman Becker drove out a homer in the sixth to add to an earlier single.

Ed. Bublitz hit a triple and a home run to lead the winners. Garmis also homered. Doubles were hit by Scholow, Tossman, and Kehe.

Rudy's finished ahead of Mt. Prospect 6-5 in a game cut out for innings by a rain storm. The lead saw-sawed from inning to inning and the rain fell at the right time for the winners.

A double by W. Busse and another by Bauer were the extra-base hits of the game. Ed. Mueller pitched for Rudy's, H. Ross for Mt. Prospect.

Mt. Prospect sprang the first big upset of the season last Thursday night as Al Hedke held the Benjamin Electric sluggers to six hits and two runs while his team was winning 5-2. The winners got a run in the first and then put over four more in a big fourth inning.

Drewes and Bill Rudolph opened the sixth for Benjamin with consecutive home runs but Hedke bore down to go through the rest of the game without another hit. LaMan-tia pitched for the losers.

In the Heidorn-C.Y.O. game both pitchers were wild and each team scored heavily in the first inning. Heidorn's got five and C.Y.O. got four. C.Y.O. collected another run in the fourth, but Heidorn's scored two in the third and two more in the fifth to win 9-3.

Eickelmann was the winning pitcher, L. Brodman the loser. Jiran and Geimer hit doubles.

Al Edenberg's 86-15--71 holds low net spot

Robert Geils of Bensenville two strokes back

It will be Bob Schuler against the field this Sunday as the Paddock Publications 2nd Annual Amateur Golf Tournament enters the second and final round at Mohawk Golf club in Bensenville. The youthful, handsome and likeable Mt. Prospect links ace, carrying the colors of Rolling Green Country club, fairly burned up the tournament-prepared par 73 Bensenville course, throwing out a pair of 38s — going out in regulation figures and back in 3 over. Schuler birdied the par 5 10th, but bogied the comparatively easy 4 par 11th and 12th holes and double bogied the treacherous 15th for a 6.

Two strokes back of the long-hitting Mt. Prospect star with a 78 is Robert Geils, Bensenville's 21-year old contribution to tournament golf. All but out of the running with an outgoing 42, Geils suddenly got hotter than a firecracker. His tee shots split the fairways and his putter took on a magic touch.

Within shooting distance and tied for 3rd low gross are Frank Foote of Des Plaines, one of Rob Roy twilight league's lower scorers, and Joseph B. White, Jr., of Itasca, with 79s. White was scheduled for induction into The Greater Game last Tuesday and some doubt remains as to whether he will be able to compete Sunday.

Veteran Edenberg Is Low Net

Al Edenberg of Des Plaines, a veteran of many golfing campaigns, disproved the theory that youth must be served in tournament competition, when he shot a handsome 86. His handicap of 15 placed him first low net position with a 71. Reilly Bird of Mt. Prospect, Kenneth Abel of Roselle and White of Itasca are a stroke back with 73s. Abel holed out a spoon shot from 200 yards out for an eagle 3 on the 9th. Ken's eagle was the first ever scored in the history of the meet. The Roselle lad is also a low gross contender with an 80.

Ray Chamberlin of Palatine, 1938 Chicago Public Links champ and member of the 1941 Chicago Public Links team which competed for national honors at Spokane, turned in a disappointing 81. Chamberlin, however, is a potential sub-par shooter, and his comparatively poor first round should not be regarded too lightly.

Tilford Foy of Prospect Heights matched Chamberlin's 81 to share a 5th place tie.

Defending Champ Withdraws

From Tourney

Glanz Dierking of Bensenville, the tourney's low gross champion, was forced to withdraw from the meet when his father passed away last Friday morning. The senior Dierking had been ill for over three months. The Paddock Publications and Glanz's many tournament friends extend their deepest sympathy.

That Alex Kouzmanoff of Bensenville, last year's gross runner-up, is in Bermuda on an architectural designing assignment of a military nature, leaves No. 1 and 2 gross spots wide open.

New Pairings

The tournament chairman has drawn new pairings and starting times for Sunday's final 18. Contestants are requested to be on the scene and close to the 1st tee when called at their given starting times. The only exemptions for tardiness will be transportation difficulties and illness.

The six prizes will be awarded immediately upon conclusion of the tournament. The two cups and the four medals are permanent possessions. Ken Coffman, Palatine photographer, will be on the scene early Sunday to take action pictures on the course. The winners will be photographed in a prize-awarding scene.

Rodeo and thrill show at Aurora over Saturday

The first annual Illinois State Championship Wild West Rodeo and Thrill Show will take place at Exposition Park, Aurora, Saturday and Sunday afternoon, July 4 and 5, at 2:30 p. m.

A cast of several hundred performers, featuring top hand cowboys and cowgirls from all parts of the west will compete in the rodeo contests of bronc riding, bulldogging, trick and fancy roping and wild cow milking events.

In addition to the rodeo contests which will be under the personal direction of Chas. Cole, the famous troupe of Hollywood daredevils and stunt men will be seen in a series of spectacular events such as smashing a car into a solid brick wall at seventy miles an hour, "Drive Bombing" their cars into several others, also a head-on crash between a motorcycle and an automobile. Last, but not least, the sensational bus jump where an automobile will leap over a transcontinental bus and five other cars. There will also be auto, horse, and motorcycle races.

The management promises a thrilling 3 1/2 hour show — do not miss it.

FROM THE TOURNAMENT

SCORING TABLE AT MOHAWK:

The record entry list of 55 has been reduced to 50 starters. Bensenville heads the community representations with 18. Des Plaines is second with 9, just ahead of Mt. Prospect's 8. The rest of the neighboring towns are in this order: Itasca, 5; Arlington Heights, 4; Glenview, 5; Palatine, Prospect Heights and Roselle, 2 each; Morton Grove, Skokie and Wheeling, 1 each. . . . The fifty scores range from 76 to 107. . . . Four broke 80. . . . Twenty were 84 or better. . . . Twenty-four were under 86. . . . Thirty-seven rounds were under 90. . . . Only five soared over 100. . . . The first eagle in the history of the meet was registered by Ken Abel of Roselle. Ken dropped his third shot, a spoon, from almost 200 yards out. . . . The youngest entry is Stanley Arendt, Jr., of Palatine, son of Inverness' club manager and pro. Junior Arendt is only 14, but already a duplicate of his father, tall and husky. . . . The majority of the field seemed to be gripped by stage-fright. There were less than a dozen good drives off the 1st tee awaited word from his Draft Board before he could file his entry. Bill Teichert of Des Plaines and Joseph B. White, Jr., of Itasca, are also going into THE GREATER GAME in a few days. Robert Geils of Bensenville, holder of No. 2 low gross position by virtue of his 78, is planning on enlisting in the Army Air Corps. . . . Assisting the tourney chairman today and wearing bright red committee badges are Mrs. Carl Berlin and Mrs. Bill Teichert. Mrs. Tilford Foy of Prospect Heights and Mrs. John Alonge of Des Plaines have been doing some high class kibitzing. Amusing, however. . . . Wonder what happened to the Missus? Better not get caught snapping a picture of the Paddock tourney sweater girl revue. . . . Closing shop with Bobby Schuler of Mt. Prospect heading the sharpshooters with a 76. Al Edenberg of Des Plaines can rest comfortably with his 71 net until 11 a. m. next Sunday when once again 'round and 'round we'll go, where the scores will stop, nobody knows.

The contest, a round in the Suburban Cups tournament, will also mark the official opening of the 1942 outdoor season.

The two teams are considered evenly matched, and a fast, hard fought battle looms up. The Mel Tierney Post drum and bugle corps is billed for an exhibition drill. Service men in uniform will be admitted free. Parking space for 1,000 cars has been provided along the north and south sidelines, and the charge to the public is only 30 cents a person, including tax.
